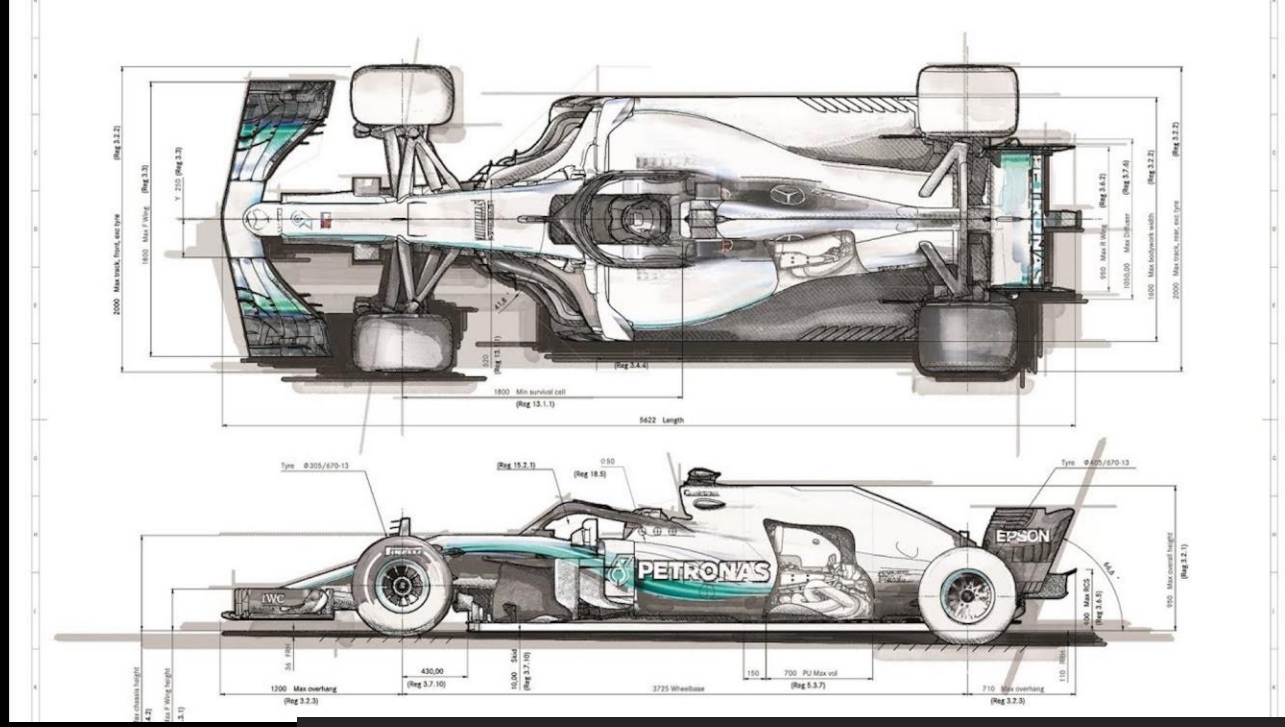
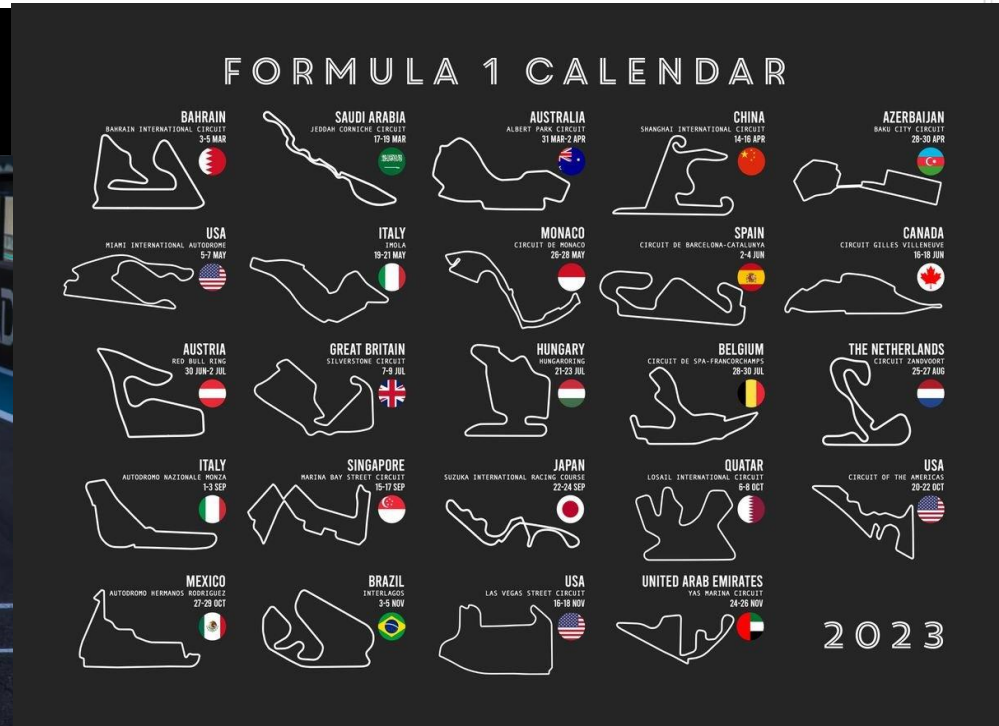
Motorsports

Made by: Tamás Gáspár

Formula 1

- The fastest recorded speed in Formula 1 was 372.5 km/h. This record was set by Lewis Hamilton during the 2020 Italian Grand Prix.
- The avarage speed of Formula 1 cars is 210 km/h to 240 km/h





Dtm, Deutsche Tourenwagen Masters

History: DTM was officially launched in 1984 as the Deutsche Tourenwagen Meisterschaft (German Touring Car Championship) but had to be discontinued after 1996 due to financial and organizational issues. It was revived in 2000 with the new name "DTM" and a fresh set of rules, attracting international manufacturers.

Tracks: Nürnburgring, Hockenheim, Monza, but there are temporary street circuits, like in Berlin.

These cars typically have powerful 2-liter, 4-cylinder turbocharged engines or V8 engines (in earlier seasons). The cars are highly tuned to maximize speed, acceleration, and handling.

Imsa, International Motor Sports Association

History: IMSA was established in 1969 by John Bishop in the United States to promote and organize professional motorsport events, particularly in sports car racing.

Classes: DPi, Daytona Prototype international
LMP2, Le Mans Prototype 2
GTLM, GT Le Mans
GTD, GT Daytona

Karting

There are 4 categories in Karting: Entry-Level, Amateur Racing, Junior Racing, Senior Racing and Shifter Karts Racing.

Types of Karts:

Kid Karts: These are designed for young children

Sprint Karts: This is the most common type in competetive karting. These cars can reach speeds of up to 110-130 km/h, depending on the engine.

Endurance Karts: These are for longer races. They often have larger fuel tanks, and more durable parts.

Shifter Karts: These karts have gearbox, and can reach even higher speeds than sprint karts. These are often used by experienced drivers in professional karting competitions.

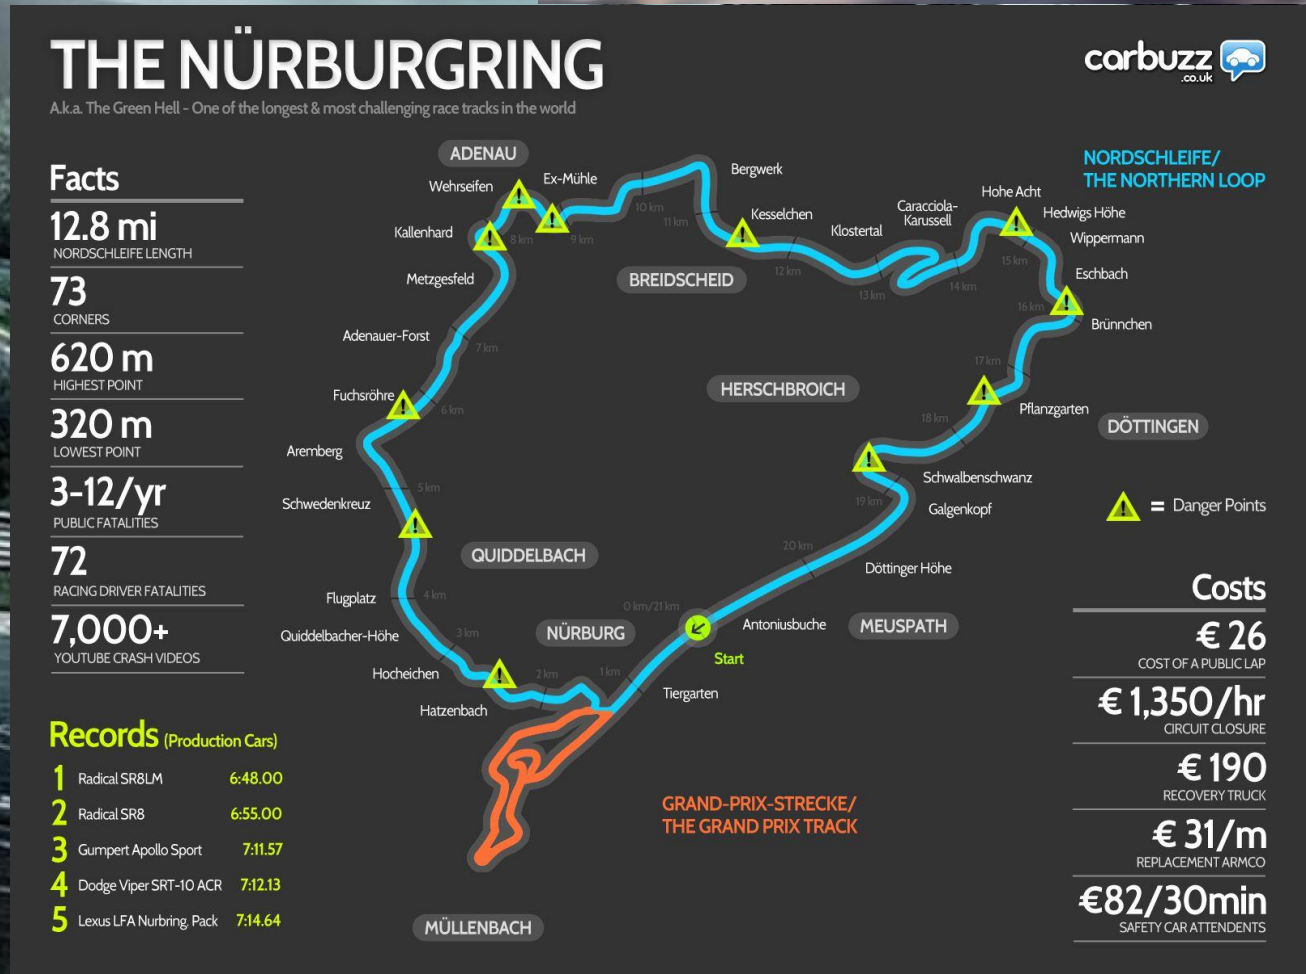
24h of Nürnburgring

Porsche 919 Hybrid EVO: 5:19.546

The full lengtht of Nürnburgring Nordschleife is 20.8 km.

Competitors: professional teams, amateur drivers, and privateers. Manufactorers like Porsche, BMW, Audi, Mercedes-AMG, Ferrari, and Volkswagen.

The Track: The Nordschleife is considered one of the most challenging and dangerous tracks in motorsport. Its technical corners, high-speed straights, and elevation changes make it a test of both the car and the driver's skill.



24h of Le Mans

The Circuit – Circuit de la Sarthe:

The track is 13.6 kilometers (8.5 miles) long

The most famous part of the track is the Mulsanne Straight, a high-speed stretch where cars can reach top speeds of over 330 km/h (205 mph).

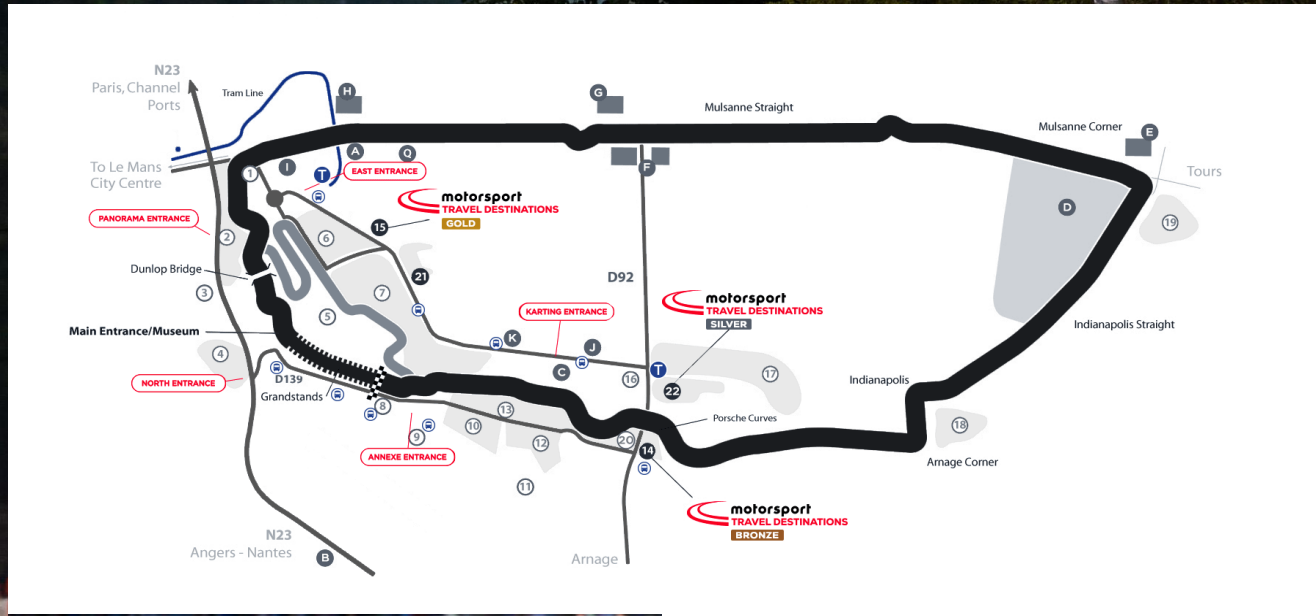
Categories:

Hypercars (LMH)

LMP2

GTE Pro

GTE Am



Toyota TS050 Hybrid: 3:17.297

Racing flags

Thank you for your attention!